TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

This is to certify that Miss. Harpreet Kaur D/o Fatch Singh R/o Tehsil Bhawanigarh, Basiarkh, Sangrur, Punjab has undergone training under our firm during the period 13th June 2023 to 28th July 2023.

It is further certified that during the training period with me, Miss. Harpreet Kaur has learnt the official working which include preparation of vouchers, posting them into books of account, preparation of ledger accounts, preparation of bank reconciliation statements, preparation of Profit & Loss Account and Balance sheets. Also she was provided the overview of how to prepare Income Tax and GST returns.

However, the time available with her was too short, yet she was able to get the glimpse of so many areas.

I am very much sure that she will excel in every field in future. I wish her a bright future career ahead.

 6 Teaching hrs = 8.5 periods (45 minutes)
 6 Teaching hrs (Practical) = 8.5 periods (45)
 12 hrs = 17 hrs per week
 9 + 6 = 15 per week

Paper-XI: PLANT ECOLOGY

Max. Marks: 55 marks

Pass Marks: 35% in Theory and Practical Separately

Theory Paper: 40 marks

Internal Assessment: 15 marks

Total Teaching hours: 45

Time Allowed: 3 Hours

Objective of the paper is to make the students conversant with the basic concepts of Ecology and make them aware of the various Environmental issues.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE PAPER SETTER

The question paper will consist of three sections A, B and C. Section A and B will have four questions from the respective section of syllabus and will carry 6 marks each. Section C will consist of 8 short-answer type questions (8-10 lines) of 2 marks each which will cover the entire syllabus uniformly and will carry 16 marks in all.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR CANDIDATES

Candidates are required to attempt two questions from each section A and B and the entire section C, which is compulsory.

SECTION-A

1. Concept of ecology and its scope. Environmental factors: climatic, edaphic, topographic and biotic. Shelford's law of tolerance.
2. Population ecology: Characteristics, positive and negative interaction, growth forms, carrying capacity, ecotypes and ecads.
3. Community ecology: Community characteristics, frequency, density and abundance, cover, life forms, ecological succession (Hydrosere, Xerosere). Cause principle of competitive exclusion.
4. Structure and concept of ecosystems, ecological pyramids, food chain, food web, ecological energetics, ecological productivity.

SECTION-B

5. Environmental issues: Brief idea of air, water, noise and soil pollution. Global warming and ozone depletion. International efforts for mitigation of global climate change.
6. Biodiversity: Introduction and Importance of Biodiversity; Elements of Biodiversity; Genetic, species and ecological diversity. Conservation strategies, concept of hot spots, biomes, phytogeographic regions of India, vegetation types (Forests, Grasslands, Deserts and Wetlands).
7. Ecological adaptations in xerophytes, hydrophytes and halophytes.
8. Biogeochemical cycles with particular reference to C, N and P.

SUGGESTED LABORATORY EXERCISES PERTAINING TO THEORY PAPERS: PLANT ECOLOGY AND PLANT UTILIZATION:

Teachers may select plant/material available in their locality/institution.

1. To determine minimum number of quadrats required for study of a grassland.
2. To study the frequency of herbaceous species in grassland and to compare the frequency distribution with Raunkiaer's Standard Frequency Diagram.
3. To estimate Importance Value Index (IVI) for grassland species on the basis of relative frequency, relative density and relative biomass in protected and grazed grassland.
4. To measure the above ground plant biomass in a grassland.
5. To determine Kemp's constant for dicot and monocot leaves and to estimate the leaf area index of a grassland community.
6. To determine diversity indices (Richness, Simpson, Shannon Wiener) in grazed and protected grassland.
7. To estimate bulk density and porosity of grassland and woodland soil.
8. To determine moisture content and water holding capacity of grassland and woodland soil.
9. To study the vegetation structure through profile diagram.
10. To estimate transparency, pH and temperature of different water bodies.
11. To measure dissolved oxygen content in polluted and unpolluted water samples.
12. To estimate salinity of different water samples.
13. To determine the per cent leaf area injury of different leaf samples collected around polluted sites.
14. To demonstrate dust holding capacity of the leaves of different plant species.
15. Food Plants: Study of the morphology, structure and simple micro chemical tests of the food storing tissues in rice, wheat, maize, potato and sugarcane. Microscopic examination of starch in these plants (excepting sugarcane).
16. Fibres: Study of cotton flower, sectioning of the cotton ovules/developing seeds to trace the origin and development of cotton fibres. Microscopic study of cotton and test for cellulose. Sectioning and staining of jute stem showing the location and development of fibres. Microscopic structure. Tests for ligno-cellulose.
17. Vegetable Oils: study of hand sections of groundnut, mustard and coconut and staining of oil droplets with Sudan III and Sudan Black.
18. Field Visits: To study sources of firewood (10 plants), timber-yielding trees (10 trees) and bamboo. A list to be prepared mentioning special features.
19. Spices: Examine Black pepper, cloves, cinnamon (hand sections) and open fruits of cardamom and describe them briefly.
20. Preparation of an illustrated inventory of 10 medicinal plants and use their in indigenous systems of medicine of allopathy. Write their botanical and common names, parts used and diseases/disorders for which they are prescribed.
21. Beverages: Section of boiled coffee beans and tea leaves to study the characteristic structural features.
